HAVE SEGURED MUCH EVIDENC

Believed Committee Will Be Able to Throw Light on Eggleston Charges.

WILL PROBE TO THE BOTTOM

Charges of Whitewashing Cannot Be Made When Board is Through.

It is now known beyond doubt that the committee to seek further evidence in the matter of the Eggleston charges concerning the Virginia School Register has secured considerable additional testimony which it will present to the full Board of Education at the meeting to be held; in this city about June 16th. The members of the committee maintain a discreet silence, but it is known tain a discreet silence, but it is known that they have considerable documentary evidence, and that further oral testimony will be introduced along with and in elucidation or corroboration of this documentary evidence.

This evidence, it is conceded, can only bear upon the publication of the Register, and whether or not any man connected with the Department of Public Instruction was pecuniarily interested in the book. A mass of testimony, some of it inconsequential, but not all of it, was offered at the recent investigation. was offered at the recent investigation. Members of the board desired further light if there were any to be had, and light if there were any to be had, and so named a committee to seek it. The members of the board do not propose to do any whitewashing or to give any one an opportunity to charge whitewashing. On the contrary, it is known to be the purpose of the board to probe the matter to the very bottom.

Who Ordered It Sci?

Who Ordered It Sc?

There was so much doubt as to how the accounts with the printers came to be entered in the name of Thomas & McGilvray that the board at the former meeting evinced a determined desire to get further light. The only source from which such information can come is from the printers and publishers who have issued the Register since it superseded the lod Holland Register. It is to be expected, therefore, that the board will make an effort to get all the books of the various firms that have printed the Register, and to ascertain whether all along the account has been entered as Thomas & McGilvray, or whether, through a mere misunderstanding by the J. L. Hill Printing Company, now non-existent, it was so entered. If the entry prove to be similar on the books of other firms, it will establish the fact that there must have been some instruction from somebody to make such an entry. This is believed to be the line of the oral testimony to be offered, though no one who knows will make a statement for publication.

The board is expected to assemble here June 16th or as soon after as nossible.

The board is expected to assemble here June 16th, or as soon after as possible. It is regarded as important that a full meeting of the board shall be had.

All Want the Truth.

The attitude of the board is one of impartiality and a desire to bring out all the facts. Mr. Eggleston specifically disclaimed any intention of reflecting on the members of the board or the board as a whole, further than they were imposed upon, their intentions and actions being innocent. That statement precludes the idea that the board itself is on trial, and imposes upon the memis on trial, and imposes upon the mem bers a responsibility to get at the bottom of the matter.

Mr. Thomas, the owner of the Register, is still suffering from a broken joint, which stubbornly refuses to yield to quick treatment. Mr. McGlivray, who emphatically denied any pecuniary interest in the publication, is also on the sick list. He is now and has long been suffering from a carbuncle on his next. He ventured out to the recent investigation and came out prematurely. As a consequence he has suffered much from this troublesome carbuncle ever since and is yet far from well.

Both gentlemen declare that tiey have nothing to conceal and court all the investigation possible. They want a knowledge of all the facts to be made known, now that so much has been said and written on the subject. Thomas, the owner of the Reg

East Franklin Street, near the old Exchange Hotel site, is now well under way. The roof has been removed and the staunch old brick walls are being broken down and removed as rapidy as practicable. The interior of the old ediffice is all that now indicates what it was. The old church, which long ago fell into disuse, is being razed to make room for a modern heavy business house to be reared on the site. One by one the old landmarks of early Richmond are disappearing. The old Uzekhanse Hotel, adjoining the old church was demolished two or three years ago to make room for a wholesale business house, and now the things that were.

Richmonders Leave Monday for the Louisville Reunion

the Louisville Reunion

About seventy or eighty veterans of Lee and Pickett Camps, of this city, accompanied by mapy ladies and visitors, will leave this city over the Chesapeako and Ohio Railway at 2 P. M. next Monday for Louisville, Ky., to attend the annual reunion and grand encampment of the United Confederate Veterans, of which the Virgina Grand Camp is a part. It is expected that about fifty members of Lee Camp and some fifteen or twenty from Pickett Camp will attend.

The list of the veterans who will go has not yet been fully made up. In addition to the veterans, Adjutant J. Taylor Stratton, of Lee Camp, stated vesterday that from three hundred to four hundred people from this city and vicinity would probably make the trip.

Virginia will be well represented at the great reunion, which promises to be the largest for several years. The ranks of the veterans are fast thinning, and it is doubtful that there will ever be a larger reunion than this. It is not unlikely that Richmond may make a bid for the next reunion. Now that the hotel accommodstions of the city are or will second be larger than ever before in the city's history. Richmond could entertain the reunion army handsomely.

BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING

Miss Bessie Leitch Wyatt the Bride of John W. Jenks.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) LYNCHBURG, VA., June 7.—At 2 o'clock this afternon a beautiful home edding took place at the home of the bride, Miss Bessie Leitch Wyatt, who was then united in marriage to Mr. John W. Jenks, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. A. McMurray, pastor of Floyd Street Presbyterian Church. The lower floor of the house had been handsomely decorated and the stairway was trimmed with Ivy and roses. Preceding the bridal party entered little Bessie Leroy Franklin, of Pamplins, and Claytor Fleming, of this city, who each bore a white satin pillow containing the letters written by the affianced couple. They were placed in front of the floral altar,

To the inspiring chords of the wedding march, played by Miss Eliza Payne, the bride entered, attended by her maid of ionor and sister, Miss Ethel Wyatt,
